Trojans state champs!

THE SPOILS OF VICTORY. Madison's Carvel Claggett holds the state small school basketball championship trophy after his team's 58-47 victory over Dunlap High Saturday night in the state championship game at the Assembly Hall on the campus of the University of Illinois in Champaign. Madison, ranked second in the state before the tourney, beat the number one, number three and number four ranked teams in the state on its way to the title. It is Madison's second state title in the last five seasons. The 1977 Trojans also finished the season on top. (Press-Record photo by Ed Sedel)

MADISON—There they were. Again. Thousands of screaming, chanting, laughing basketball fans standing in a drizzling rain to welcome the new Class A state high school basketball champions home here Sunday afternoon—the Madison Trojans.

Madison (30-2) won its second state championship in five years Saturday night with a 58-47 victory over Dunlap in the state championship game at the Assembly Hall in Champaign. Madison also won the title in 1977.

The Trojans, who had been ranked second in the state all season in two wire service polls, had a tough road to travel on their way to the championship. Along the way, they defeated the state's number one, number three and number four ranked teams. They downed number one New Lenox, Providence in the quarterfinals Friday afternoon and beat number four Cairo in the semifinals Saturday morning, after knocking off number three Lawrenceville in the Charleston Super-Sectional last Tuesday. After a welcoming parade Sunday that stretched several miles long with cars, trucks, vans and a police escort, the champions were given a reception at the Madison High School gymnasium.

"It gives me great pleasure to introduce to you the state champion Madison Trojans," said Madison High Principal Daniel Kostenki to the screaming crowd. After introducing the Madison School Board members, he introduced Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols and State Representative Sam Wolf, who were in the crowd.

"This day belongs to the players," said Kostenki.

Madison coach Larry Graham, the winningest Class A coach this season, said, "I'd like to thank everyone for coming out to welcome us home. You're great fans. And thanks to all the players. Especially the seniors on the team. They were a great bunch to work with."

Graham introduced his assistant coach, Dave Hodges. "There are so many people to thank, I hate to single anyone out," said Hodges. "To anyone who helped us along the way, thanks. Then Hodges introduced the players one by one.

KERWIN STANLEY: "One of the finest defensive players I've ever worked with," said Hodges. "He's a super, super kid."

CHARLES CLAGGETT: "He was one of the most under publicized and underrated players on our team this season," said Hodges. "His defense improved and he ended up being one of the best on the team late in the season. He gave us a lift in the championship game."

MORRIS HUGHES: "He made the fans say Walter Who?," said Hodges, referring to New Lenox All-America Walter Downing. "He was our leader. He was the main man."

Partney says Decatur claims political 'ploy'

Dan Partney, candidate for mayor of Granite City, accused Mayor Paul Schuler Thursday afternoon of having put Alderman Warren Decatur in the mayor's race to split up Partney's support and contended the latest allegations by Decatur of offers he received to get out of the mayor's race were part of "a last-ditch panic effort told to him (Decatur) to do by Mayor Paul Schuler."

Partney said that Decatur's allegations of a conspiracy by people who attempted to get Decatur out of the mayor's race fits "a scenario," which points to involvement of the Madison city organization and Mayor Schuler's office in a complex "plot" to make it appear that Partney tried to get Decatur out of the race.

"Mayor Schuler and the Madison city organization have gotten Warren Decatur in the mayor's race," Partney said in denying any knowledge of attempts to get Decatur out of the race. Partney contended that Decatur did not enter the mayor's race until the last possible minute and then had to enlist the aid of Coordinated Youth students and had to send people to shopping center parking lots to get enough signatures in time to qualify as a candidate.

He said he does not feel Decatur is a viable candidate, as exemplified by the alderman's fund-raiser, which attracted only about 70 persons, despite personal invitations sent out by Avery Schermer, who is named by Decatur as one of those who conveyed the offers to get out of the race to him.

"When I ran for county board, more than 100 persons attended my fund-raiser and about 350 attended my fund-raiser for mayor Feb. 16," Partney said. He contended the poor turnout at the fund-raiser showed that plans to use Decatur to split the Partney vote were not working, leading to the "last-ditch" effort to discredit Partney by saying that Partney supporters offered money and favors to Decatur if he would withdraw from the race.

Portell responds to charges by Decatur

Lionel Portell today issued a response to the statement by Warren Decatur Wednesday evening before the Granite City Democratic Club in Granite City, noting that he and Warren Decatur and their families had been, over a number of years, personal friends as well as political associates. He said that when this campaign filing deadline approached, he did have several conversations with Warren Decatur over a period of time. Portell acknowledged that he had told Decatur that in any campaign there were serious allegations made against the principal candidates which reflected upon their family life. An obvious example of this, Portell said, is the current charges by Decatur which necessarily reflect upon the family of Lionel Portell. This is a real part of everyday politics and Portell said he regretted the fact that Warren Decatur "has chosen to reflect upon his family by obvious smear tactics designed to question the integrity of a public office-holder."

Turning a close personal association of years standing into a name-calling contest "will not help either of the individuals involved and certainly not their families," Portell said. Concerning the specific allegations made, Portell asserted that there were never any sums of money discussed, that he has never met Tom Brimberry and that although he knows Avery Schermer, he has never been a political associate of Avery Schermer.

Portell said that in the course of four major city-wide campaigns, numerous people are approached to encourage them to seek various offices and that it

Candidates pledge efforts

Cooperation with other governmental entities was the key to achievements of Granite City Township during the past four years, Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer contended at last week's meeting of the Granite City Democratic Club, but his opponent, Tom Nesbit, saw things in a much gloomier light.

Hagnauer was the first supervisor to address the candidate night at the club under club rules calling for candidates to be addressed in alphabetical order. Approximately 150 persons attended to hear the talk. Hagnauer reviewed what he felt were the accomplishments under his administration, including a new township hall, off-street parking on Delmar Avenue, soccer field lights on Fehling Road, gymnasium bleachers at Granite City High School North, fencing at Anchorage Homes and three shuttle buses for senior citizens to reach their destinations for shopping, banking, doctor's appointments and activities.

"My main job is to take care of the needy and the poor. I think I have done that job fairly. Not one person who came to me for help was mistreated and never will be mistreated," Hagnauer said.

He said he is proud of the shuttle bus service which averages 1,700 trips a month, including 90 trips for handicapped in wheelchairs. With the cooperation of a CB club, trips were made possible for seniors to go to various locations, he added.

He said it was only through the cooperation with the city, the school board, the park board, the housing authority, the county's community development office and others that such accomplishments were possible and added, "I feel we worked hard for this cooperation."

Hagnauer said that the township's seniors are being offered a wide variety of activities, from quilting to exercise programs, dances, contests, wiener roasts, hay rides and other programs. "Four years ago, our opponents used the slogan 'Get Granite Going.' I think we got Granite going good. Now they want to 'Turn Granite City around.' I don't know what they want," Hagnauer commented.

His opponent, Nesbit, spoke briefly and reviewed his union background, membership on the trades council and civic activities, including managing Little League baseball 15 years.

He said he is unhappy with the progress, or lack of it, in the city and stated, "I see my town going down and I think it is really about to hit the bottom right now."

"We have seen 10,000 people leave this area in 10 years, so I am trying to get elected myself and try to do something about it," he concluded.

Also invited to speak before the club were the candidates for mayor and for

New toll-free phone service installed

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has installed a toll-free telephone line for Illinois residents who need to communicate with the Office of Admissions and Records. The WATS (wide area telephone service) line number is (800) 642-7890. The purpose of the new service is to provide toll-free access to the campus for the following groups of people:

- high school and community college counselors in Illinois;
- high school graduates in the process of choosing a college;
- parents of prospective students;
- community college students seeking to transfer to a senior level institution;

Eugene Magac, acting director of the SIUE Office of Admissions and Records, said the WATS line will be in service from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on weekdays when University offices are open. The telephone line will provide direct service to an admissions counselor who can provide the caller with specific information concerning the University's academic programs and admissions procedures, counseling, and a general explanation of the University's academic programs and services. The toll-free telephone number for St. Louis residents is 921-5198.

Math contest at SIUE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, named one of 14 regional testing centers for Illinois' first high school math contest, will be host to entries from 16 area high schools, Saturday, March 21. Paul Phillips, associate professor of mathematics, will coordinate the competition at SIUE where approximately 400 students will coordinate the contest and teams in both small and large school categories. The contest, organized by the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics and sponsored by CNA Insurance Companies, is expected to draw 3,000 students from 148 high schools in the state. The winners from each region will move to the state finals May 2 at Normal.

Phillips said the math problems and contests will be the same at each regional center and will be given the same day. Freshmen through senior students will have the choice of earning points by taking a written examination, competing on two-person, five-person or ten-person teams, joining in a relay contest where the answer to one problem is needed to solve the next, or by going it alone in an oral exam with the judges.

Each student may enter as many contests as time and ability allow, Phillips said. Plaques and ribbons will go to individuals and schools with the highest scores in both Class A and AA categories, based on accuracy and speed. The awards ceremony will begin at 1:30 p.m.

All questions for the tests will come from high school teachers and college professors in Illinois and will deal with specific problems in algebra, geometry, trigonometry, pre-calculus and math analysis. ICTM officials said. They will test skills in factoring, equations, logarithms, inequalities, logical reasoning and creative analysis.

Entries at SIUE in Class A (fewer than 750 students) are Gibault, Lebanon, New Athens, Red Bud, St. Henry's, Southwestern, Sparta and St. Paul. Schools entered in Class AA (larger than 750) are Alton, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Granite City North, Highland, Lincoln, O'Fallon and Salem.

The ICTM Regional Math Contest is also open to any local high school math teachers as observers, Phillips said. For additional information, interested persons may call Phillips at 692-2382.

Parade launches Girl Scouts 69th anniversary

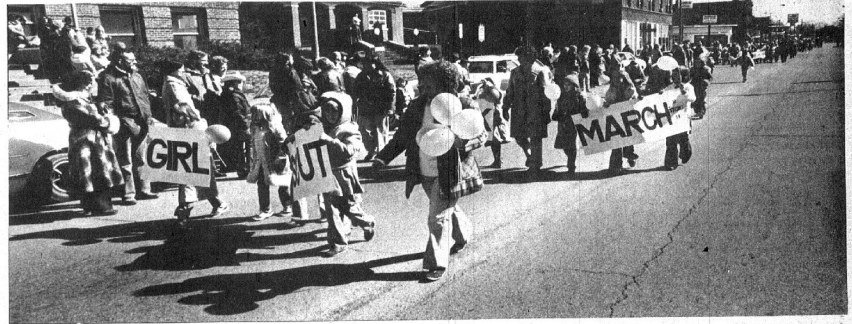

Girl Scouts in the Quad-Cities observed Girl Scout Week with a parade involving over 800 Girl Scouts and adult volunteers as the initial event to precede various other activities by individual troops planned for the week celebrated throughout the United States, marking the 69th anniversary of Girl Scouting.

Leading the procession was American flag bearers from Cadette Troop 328 of Neighborhood IV, lower left photo, followed by Mrs. Myra Parish, District IV Chairman, carrying the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council flag accompanied by a color guard from Cadette Troop 776 of Neighborhood II. Cheryl Swift, a member of Cadette Troop 328, held the folded World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts flag to be posted at the City Hall.

Fornazewski's Drum Corps preceded Girl Scouts and leaders from Neighborhood II, Neighborhood IV and Neighborhood V. Also featured in the procession was the new mini bus owned by the River Bluffs Council driven by Debbie Marshall.

The official flag ceremony at the City Hall was conducted by Cadette Troop 328 with Cheryl Swift, Cheryl Lenzi, Regina Herrin, Rhonda Allen, Kris Bausch and Beverly Wallace serving as color guards, in the presence of Mayor Paul Schuler and other dignitaries. Grant funds for housing repairs

Madison County Housing Authority has entered into a contract with the Department of Housing and Urban Development to administer a section 8 moderate rehabilitation program in Madison County.

The section 8 moderate rehabilitation program is designed to permit property owners to rehabilitate rental units which are now substandard or have major building components which will soon need repair or replacement. The purpose of the program is to increase the amount of quality housing in the present market. Property owners who take advantage of this program will be required to provide housing to eligible low income families.

The Madison County Housing Authority in conjunction with Madison County Community Development will provide rehabilitation for 50 units countywide.

An open meeting to present the program to property owners will be held on March 19, at 7 p.m. at the Madison County Board room, Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville. This meeting will be open to the public.

Further information may be obtained by contacting either the Madison County Housing Authority, 1609 Olive, Collinsville, (345-5142), or Madison County Community Development, 130 Hillsboro, Edwardsville, (692-4387).

THEFT AT SCHOOL Patricia Wirtles, a teacher at Webster School, reported last week that a tan wallet containing credit cards and driver's license and a leather pouch with $8 inside had been taken from her purse while she was under her desk in a classroom. The theft occurred prior to pupils reporting for school.

However, a former student had been seen in the vicinity of the room, the teacher advised police.

Hodges then introduced the rest of the team — Darrell Baker, who couldn't make the roster in Champagne because of an injury, but was given a first place medal in the ceremonies after the game anyway; Avery Crawford, a junior forward with good speed and quickness, according to Hodges.

The last player introduced by Hodges was Roy Campbell, "who'll be our big man in the middle next season." Campbell walked into the middle of the gym floor to join his teammates. In his large hands was the thing they had alderman in several wards. Comments made by the mayors appear in another article.

First Ward alderman candidate William "Bill" Dallas Sr., a former alderman, was the first candidate to speak and said he feels it is "an honor to serve" as an alderman, "not for prestige or one's self-service."

He said in his 58 years here, he has watched Granite City and Granite City Steel grow and has been a good union man during his working career. He reviewed some of the accomplishments of the city while he was an alderman.

He said he is proud to have worked hard on many of the projects, including the 19th Street overpass.

Bailey said his opponent is blaming him for stopping the Lincoln Plaza cleanup campaign, but said that was necessary because the volunteers were not insured and it would have been very expensive to have worked on them being injured.

The opponent, Jake Varadian, told the audience that he is a teacher, has been very active in the community for many years and has been active in coordinating volunteer work to clean up Lincoln Plaza and to help the senior citizens keep their property and homes neat.

For their volunteer efforts, youths were rewarded with feasts, trips and other activities. Varadian also said fund-raising projects in which he has participated have raised money to send youths to the Ozarks and have been used to purchase $700 worth of trees to beautify Lincoln Plaza.

WARD SIX The candidates for Sixth Ward alderman followed with Walter Milton first. Milton pointed out his background in management and said the city "needs solid managerial government to see that the citizens get the best possible return on their investment."

Milton said he has been active in the community and in working with the young people, "who represent the future." He also serves on the Governor's Recreational Council, which seeks to improve the use of leisure time for all citizens.

He pledged that if he is elected, "You will have a long-time taxpayer and committed citizen working for you."

Next was the next Sixth Ward candidate to speak. He said that as precinct committeeman, he has worked to clean up the precinct.

If elected, he pledged to work toward bringing business into the city, to hold regular ward meetings and to try to improve the stormwater sewers in the ward.

He also pledged that if elected, he will see that "instead of blacktopping concrete streets which don't need paving, we will pave the streets which need it."

Stephen Saltich, another Sixth Ward candidate, pledged that, if elected, he will resign as president of the Granite City Board of Education to devote more time to his ward.

He said that during his two terms on the school board, including two years as treasurer and one as president, "I have learned to represent the interests of the citizens of Granite City and will work toward efficient administrative effort for Granite City."

The fourth candidate for Sixth Ward Alderman, Bill Smithson, was absent.

SEVENTH WARD Paul Ray Bowler, incumbent Seventh Ward alderman, was the first to speak from his ward and he asked to be re-elected on his record of fulfilling the promises he made four years ago.

He discussed savings the city has experienced while he has been chairman of the finance committee, including self-insurance of workmen's compensation, minimum-risk employee health coverages, centralized inventory for cheaper purchasing, and other programs.

He said he is proud to have helped establish the home mortgage bond issue, to have started work on the comprehensive zoning ordinance to stop spot zoning, to have opened a utility tax, to have held ward meetings on assessments and other concerns and to have repaired damaged streets.

"I think I have represented my area and the city quite well," Bowler said in asking to be re-elected.

Michael Werths of the Seventh Ward was the last speaker. He said that the alderman, collectively, are more important than the mayor in guiding the future of the city and each alderman is more responsible for his own ward than the mayor. Therefore, he said, he would not see the alderman's post as "a stepping stone to higher office."

"I will dedicate myself to the people of my ward and my city, without regard to political consequences, he said.

The third candidate in the Seventh Ward, Ron Markarian, was absent.

The other speaker was George Sykes, president of the Granite City Park Board, who is unopposed for re-election. Sykes said he believes Granite City has a good park board which has accomplished a great deal in recent years, having spent about $250,000 in developing facilities, playgrounds, tennis courts and basketball courts and picnic shelters.

"The park district only gets about four percent of your tax and I believe it is a well-invested four percent," he concluded.

Decatur has tried to turn that around and use it against Lionel Portell, who was his friend."

Partney said he told Portell to do what he wanted, but did not support or discourage Portell from talking to Decatur.

He contended that Decatur's ties with Schuler are supported by statements that Decatur has spent time with Chief of Police Ronald Veizer, a Schuler appointee, and that Decatur's campaign manager, Glen Hollis, had a Decatur office in the first department under Schuler's administration.

"I do not intend to comment on this any more. I want to emphasize that if Mr. Decatur feels this is true, he should take it to the state's attorney's office."

"My attitude, all along, has been that if Warren Decatur wants to be a candidate, let him be a candidate. That's exactly the way I see it," Partney said.

He cited Decatur's allegations as one part of "a very dirty campaign," and he stated, "I can now understand why it is hard to get good, qualified citizens to run for public office, due to this type of trash."

"Now," Partney contended,

Madison wins

fought for all season long. The thing only one team in the state of Illinois could take home Saturday night.

The state championship trophy, Madison thus becomes the fourth Quad Cities team to win a state basketball championship. Besides the 1977 Trojans, the 1978 Venice Red Devils won the Class A title, and in 1940, Granite City High School won the state title.

Madison's victory in the state title game also gives the Quad Cities its second state high school championship of the season. The Granite City South Warriors won the 1980 state soccer championship in November, their fifth in a row. It also continues a trend. Going back over the last two school years, teams in Southern Illinois have won state championships. Granite City South also won the 1979 state soccer championship; Collinsville won the '80 Class AA basketball title; Alton Marquette won the 1980 Class A baseball title; East St. Louis Lincoln won both the girls Class AA basketball and Class AA track titles in 1980; Decatur won the 1980 Class A basketball girls title; Mascoutah and East St. Louis won state football titles in 1979, Belleville Althoff in 1980.

But it's Madison's turn. Again.

Portell responds

is certainly not unusual to offer support and encouragement.

Finally, Portell said that when he did offer support to Warren Decatur to run for clerk of the City of Granite City, a common occurrence in any political campaign, the response of Warren Decatur was that he wished Lionel Portell had come to him earlier.

"Through past political associations, myself and Alderman Decatur have talked to various candidates about running for public office and giving them our support. Now, is Alderman Decatur trying to get free publicity for something he says happened to him when he has done the same thing in the past?" Portell concluded.

PROWLER ARRESTED FOUND IN CARPORT

A 14-year old youth was found hiding in a carport at a home in the 3000 block of Carlson Avenue and arrested for disorderly conduct after police were called in reference to boys prowling through the Davis, Myrtle and Carlson avenues area, Friday at 8:13 a.m.

The police allegedly saw four youths on the south parking lot at Charlie's Restaurant and when they saw the officers car they ran through the bushes, jumping fences and hiding in various yards in the area.

The young man was released at 9:30 a.m. Friday to his father on a notice to appear.

"people make the difference."

Working in First Bank's Mini-Lobby keeps me under constant pressure, mostly because of the non-stop flow of walk-up customers, many of whom are always in a hurry! So, I have to work quickly, efficiently, and most of all accurately in completing deposits, withdrawals, money orders, traveler's checks and other daily routine banking transactions.

A part of my job which makes the constant pressure bearable is my on-going "love affair" with people, especially those who, over the years, have been coming to me regularly for their banking needs. In addition to these "old friends," I also have the privilege of meeting and serving new customers every day!

All of these things help give me a tremendous sense of pride as I leave my job at the bank each day feeling that I have helped contribute in a big way to its daily operation.

RE-ELECT
PAUL RAY BOWLER
INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE—ALDERMAN 7th WARD
"HE CARES"

Candidates discuss issues of campaigns

A lively discussion of issues among the three candidates for mayor of Granite City highlighted the second candidates' night of the Granite City Democratic Club last week in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Mayor Paul Schuler, Alderman Warren Decatur and Dan Partney, all candidates for mayor, repeated their basic platforms for the close to 150 persons at the meeting and offered rebuttals to charges by their opponents.

Candidates for Granite City Township supervisor and for aldermen in several wards also spoke. The mayor candidates were introduced in alphabetical order by master of ceremonies Dewey Milon. The first to speak was Decatur, 63, who said he was running with "no political backing and no big money." Decatur detailed his background, including one of hardship and hard work during the depression and said he can identify with the poor and with factory workers.

Decatur denied allegations by Partney that he has consistently voted with Schuler at council meetings, claiming the votes taken were voice votes which are not individually counted. "I'm getting sick and tired of the things he is saying," Decatur added.

He said he is proud of his work on the council's budget committee which has always tried to keep expenses down. Then he aimed another salvo at the city's inspection department, saying, "There are no inspections. They collect fees for inspections, things are built and there is no inspection. If I am elected, there will be a complete restructuring of the inspection department," he pledged.

He said he was the first to criticize the size of the staff at the city's sewage treatment plant. "There are 305 have got to resolve down to getting more for the taxpayers' money." Decatur also said he would declare war on crime and illegal drug sales in the city and would work to hire more police, possibly some on foot patrol, to make the city safer.

Under the alphabetical order, the next mayor candidate introduced was Partney, who was critical of Decatur's voting record on Schuler appointments and pay raises. He contended Decatur had the option to vote no in the voice votes, but did not do so.

Partney said Granite City is a higher unemployment rate than East St. Louis and painted a bleak picture of the business climate, including the loss of A.O. Smith Corp. and the 482 jobs it represented.

He said Schuler promised fiscal restraint and lower taxes four years ago, but this year the city has a record budget and the tax rate has risen. He also criticized Schuler for failure to lower the tax rate when the $267,000 corporate replacement tax was enacted, saying the governor said anyone not reducing taxes to offset the replacement tax was "a tax eater."

The payroll at the treatment plant has risen 385 percent under the present city administration and the number of persons working there rose from 14 to 34. In 1972, the payroll for the treatment plant was $180,000 and today it is $525,000 per year, Partney said.

He contended the population has dropped by 4,000 persons under Schuler's administration and referred to an earlier statement by Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer that the current administration was "getting Granite going good," and Partney said, "If that's the case, why are we getting Granite going good, I don't want it. We're going in the wrong direction."

He said Granite City is "full of good people who, with the proper leadership, can turn Granite City around—all around."

He said the city government's financial picture is poor and some employees owed back pay for months still have not received it. He said there are problems with downtown area, Kirkpatrick Homes, older neighborhoods, streets, drainage and sewers and stated, "I think I've got some solutions for many of the problems we've got here in Granite City."

"I'm 31 years old, very aggressive and I want to see a better community to raise my family in and a better community to raise your family in," Partney concluded.

Mayor Paul Schuler was the last mayor candidate to address the gathering, saying, "Sometimes I wonder if I live in the same community these candidates are talking about."

He cited industrial growth in the last four years, including the $4 million Feralloy plant, a $15 million commitment from Michigan Metals, a million dollar project by R&R Leasing at the former Union Star site, the new Battery Recyclers, Pre-Coat Metals and a $10 million expansion totaling $14 million at American Steel Industries, $1 million each at Prairie Park Dairy and the Nestle Co., a $15 million expansion of Air Products with a commitment there for a $10 million expansion, the new Steelabrade facility and others.

The mayor also said that Siderer Supply has announced it plans to move its operation into the new Illinois Power industrial plant next to Pre-Coat Metals and will move its headquarters here. He said he is proud of the industrial revenue bond issues, first used in 1973 with Archer Daniels Midland Co. to lure industry here. Since the ADM soybean processing plant was built, the city has sponsored five more major industrial revenue bond programs including nearly $200 million for Granite City Steel and plans for another $80 million revenue bond program for air pollution equipment, a total of about $250 million.

"If that is decay, well, I'll eat your hat," the mayor stated, adding that such large investment "Displays confidence by industry in the city administration in the last four years." He said he heard charges that downtown is decaying, so he toured downtown by bicycle. "I counted storefronts. One hundred and seventy-six storefronts were occupied and many have been remodeled. There were only eight vacant storefronts in downtown Granite City. I'm kind of proud of that."

He noted the Illinois-American Water Co. built the first new building downtown in many years, First Granite City National Bank has remodeled, St. Elizabeth Medical Center has spent $20 million on expansion and the Washington Theater is being remodeled for a ballroom and dance hall. He obtained a $30,000 building permit to remodel the former Fratelli's store for a law office expansion, all in the downtown area, Schuler said.

He said the last record budget was partially due to the $65 million overpass being included, which seems to inflate the budget, but "is being built with that good, very little of your taxes."

He concluded, "Granite City is going and going good and even better than good." A question and answer session followed. First Ward Alderman Charles Douglas asked Schuler his stand on supporting the rights of blacks wanting to move into Granite City and whether a substantial percentage of workers in the city are black.

He added, "I believe in the neighborhood concept and will support and try to maintain that concept for the people of Granite City."

Another man asked Partney how he plans to lay off city employees while controlling inflation. Partney responded, "I believe we can run Granite City just like a business. Eliminate the jobs of the excess baggage. You don't have inflation by putting an additional burden on the taxpayers."

One man said the phase-out of A.O. Smith was planned years ahead and asked Partney how he would have stopped the closing. Partney replied that the plant had frame orders into the 1982 model year and could have been kept here at least that long.

The candidate also said a previously planned closing in 1988 was averted by the cooperation of the late father, Mayor Donald Partney. An employee of the sewage treatment plant asked if Partney was aware that the growth in the number of employees at the sewage treatment plant was partially due to federal government regulations, including a requirement to build the giant secondary sewage treatment plant.

Partney said he was aware of it, but compared the number of employees here with the number in Alton, which also has secondary sewage treatment, and said, "We have less sewage, less users and more employees."

In one man asked if it was true that Partney, a county board member, has missed 74 percent of the meetings of the board and committees he is on, Partney responded that he did miss many meetings when he knew there was not much on the agenda and the members were only collecting per diem pay for attending.

Since county board members went on straight salary, his attendance has improved, Partney said.

Plans to raze property from 18th Street south to the railroad tracks between Cleveland Boulevard and State Street for an office or medical building. A resident asked if he knew how many residents would have to be relocated.

Decatur said new low-cost multifamily housing was a portion of his plan, along with a grocery, possibly a quick food shop and other businesses. "A lot of the houses there are in a very bad state of repair. We need rehabilitation of homes," he added.

Following the talks, Club President Paul Fisk thanked the speakers and the audience. Comments made by other candidates appear in another article.

St. Patrick's Day postmark

Once again the St. Patrick, Mo. post office will postmark March 17 mail in green ink, using a specially-designed cancellation stamp. The post office is also sending a St. Patrick's Day envelope.

This year's cancellation design features the image of St. Patrick enveloped by a shamrock alongside a symbolic portrayal of the tiny pastoral town.

The envelope, 6½x3½, depicts historical St. Patrick edifices, the original 1900 church, the 1909 school, and the general store (which houses the post office) built in 1939. Florissant artist Marguerite Entenhorst, born on a farm near St. Patrick, designed this year's commemorative envelope.

Mail accompanied by check or money order to cover the cost of postage, received by the St. Patrick post office, zip code 63456, prior to March 17 will be postmarked in green in honor of all things Irish.

The St. Patrick envelope sells for 50 cents, including stamp; orders must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped return business-size envelope.

Deplores bill ending motor fund

Assistant House Democratic leader Michael F. McClain (D-Quincy) said today he was appalled that Governor James Thompson would allow a Republican legislator to introduce a bill to abolish the Road Fund.

"Not only has the Governor failed to show any leadership on the highway funding issue, now he can't even influence or control members of his own party," McClain said.

McClain said HB 428, filed earlier this week by Rep. Donald E. Deuster, a Republican, would abolish the Road Fund and the Motor Fuel Tax Fund and deposit motor fuel taxes and user fees in the General Revenue Fund.

"That's equivalent to a farmer saying he should put a fox in the henhouse to improve egg production," McClain said.

McClain's proposal is exactly the opposite of what we would be doing," McClain explained. "We should be trying to avoid any further deterioration in the road fund balance."

McClain noted that of the $200 million that will go into the Road Fund this fiscal year, all but $71 million will be diverted into operations for going on construction projects started last year or before, that leaves only $29 million to build new roads during this fiscal year.

"At a million dollars a mile for new construction, $29 million won't go far." "Apparently the Governor feels his General Revenue Fund balance is more important than having good roads," McClain said.

"He has talked for more than a year about the need for a gas tax increase to improve the Road Fund, but now instead of showing some leadership on this issue, he allows a legislator from his own party to try to scuttle the road fund."

"If Governor Thompson were serious about improving Illinois highways, he would propose a complete stop to all diversions from the Road Fund and earmark every dollar collected for the fund for repair, maintenance and construction of Illinois' roads and bridges.

"To do otherwise, ignores the horrible condition of Illinois highways. By the way, what ever happened to the $4 billion in projects that were supposed to come about as a result of Thompson's transportation deal with Chicago's Mayor Byrne. You obviously can't see where when you drive over bumpy pavement or use crumbling bridges in Illinois.

"That deal and Deuster's bill are just more examples of Thompson's lack of leadership in Illinois State government," McClain concluded.

MEET WEDNESDAY

The board of directors of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, March 18, at Rustio's Restaurant, 204 North Bluff (Route 157), Collinsville. The meeting is scheduled to start at 5:30 p.m. All board of directors' meetings are open to the public.

Hebert seeks $55,000 in city funds; Petrillo says its in certificates

William Hebert, a candidate for Granite City mayor, said that $55,000 paid to the city in January 1979 for the old Nameoki fire station has not shown up in annual reports for the city. Hebert said he has certificates of deposit for the money in his office.

Following a study of annual financial reports, the city treasurer Nick Petrillo said he has certificates of deposit for the $55,000, which has increased to $62,000 because of the interest involved.

"I invested the money when it first was received and later reinvested it to earn more interest," Hebert said Petrillo promised him to check into the whereabouts of the money and would meet with him Monday (today) in the afternoon.

Meanwhile Petrillo explained that the money will not show up until the 1980 year which will be made in May or June because the certificates do not expire until August this year.

"A person just can't walk in here any time and ask for something we can produce in a minute's time. We have to check the records, and when we did in this case, the whereabouts of the money showed up."

Hebert is a candidate for city treasurer on the ticket of Dan Partney, candidate for mayor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cox

Cox-Hudson

The sanctuary was illuminated with heart-shaped candelabra with garlands of smilax and white satin bows surrounded by ferns on pedestals for the wedding of Jacklyn Marie Hudson and Ronald Kevin Cox on February 14 at the First United Pentecostal Church. The Rev. Kenneth V. Reeves performed the double ring ceremony at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene D. Hudson, 2832 Michigan Ave. Mrs. Miriam Cox, mother of the groom, resides in Southaven, Miss.

Music was provided for the procession by Jeff Switzer who sang and played "Unchained Melody." The groom sang, "Lady" to the bride as she was escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father. During the service, Miss Christy Colford sang "Everlasting Love" and "This Is The Year of Jubilee," accompanied at the piano by Jeff Switzer. After the marriage vows, Miss Colford and Switzer sang a duet, "Whatever It Takes." The recessional began by the soloists singing "The Rose."

For her wedding, the bride chose an A-line gown of white chiffon over taffeta with a sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice with Venice lace motifs. The sleeves were of chiffon with Venice trim and satin cuffs.

A matching mantilla with Venice trim held a bridal illusion veil attached at the crown.

She carried a white satin and lace heart covered with a white cascade of flowers consisting of rosebuds and roses, moth orchids, lily of the valley surrounded with ivy and fern and tied with white satin and lace streamers.

Matron of honor, and the bridesmaid selected identical old fashioned style dresses of chiffon over taffeta with fitted bodices and high necklines trimmed with wedgewood lace in mauve. The attendants wore coordinating headpieces of burgandy rose buds with white and lace ribbon and carried white satin and lace hearts with burgandy roses, mauve moth orchids, and a touch of grey accent flowers surrounded with fern and ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Kathy Hubbard, a cousin of the bride, and Patti Hudson, bridesmaid, sister of the bride.

Jeff Butler, attended the groom as best man with Steve Edwards as groomsmen. Byron Cox, brother of the groom, James Hudson, cousin of the bride, and Thomas Hudson, brother of the bride, escorted the guests to their seats.

The flower girl, Trisha Lynne Thebeau, niece of the bride, was attired in a gown identical to the bridesmaid and wore a miniature band of flowers in her hair. She carried a white basket filled with rose petals.

Clayton Eugene Thebeau, a nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Attending the guest book was Miss Karen Hudson, cousin of the bride.

The reception was held, following the service, at the Granite City Township Hall. The groom's mother hosted a rehearsal dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hudson, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Hudson, mother of the bride, chose a long pink satin gown complemented with a jacket of raschel lace edged in pink satin to match the gown. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Cox, selected a long gown of blue tulle and she wore a corsage of white rosebuds. A 1971 graduate of Granite City High School, Miss Hudson graduated last May from the Jackson College of Ministries, Jackson, Miss., majoring in Christian Education.

Percy bill would assist government collect debts

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has introduced legislation which would help collect the $25 billion in unpaid debts owed the federal government.

"The federal government must be as tough about collecting debts as it is willing to lend money," Percy said. "Without the incentive and tools to collect debts, much of this federal money could be lost."

The bill — The Debt Collection Act of 1981 — would allow the government to report delinquent debtors to commercial credit bureaus. Such reporting by the federal government, which is an effective means of debt collection in the private sector, now is prohibited by law.

In addition, the bill would change the law to permit the government to set aside a portion of a federal employee's salary for payment of unpaid debts.

The bill also would remove another obstacle to debt collection by the federal government by changing the law to allow access to Internal Revenue Service records of the names and addresses of debtors by outside agencies assisting the government.

The total debt to the federal government is $175 billion, consisting of $125 billion owed by individuals, businesses and organizations in the United States and $49 billion from foreign governments.

Of the $126 billion owed from domestic sources, $102 billion is government loans and $24 billion is unpaid taxes, overpayments to beneficiaries, interest and other sources.

The federal government operates 358 loan programs in 24 agencies. The agencies with the largest amounts of unpaid debt are the Department of Agriculture, Department of Treasury, Department of Housing and Urban Development and Agency for International Development.

Office of Management and Budget (OMB) officials testified last November to the Governmental Affairs Committee that mismanagement and lack of effective collection tools cost the federal government $16 billion in uncollected debts.

Will Poland convince world of Communism's evils?

Americanism Educational League — The say it is all wind that brings no good ... and this may be so with Poland now. Communist countries have enjoyed many successes as they have, with impunity, exploited tensions and discontent in free countries around the globe.

Now, citizens of Poland are showing the world their distrust and hatred of their socialist-Communist government. The workers are striking and flitting with outright revolt against their so-called "Peoples Republic" — a high-sounding name used by various Communist dictators.

For over 40 years, Communism has leveled almost continuous propaganda barrages aimed at the Free World, and even at emerging Third World countries. In response, we have pursued a docile, defensive posture during hot and cold wars, during dubious detente, and during Soviet attacks on their weaker neighbors.

There is even substantial evidence that the Soviets inspired the 1960-61 war between Iran and Iraq. They were on both sides, fomenting military action, encouraging national suicide while waiting for the oil-rich Persian Gulf region to fall into their own grasping hands.

In addition, the Soviets have inspired both countries to go on propaganda offensives, charging that their war was instigated by our own FBI, CIA and American business interests. These far-fetched accusations have served to distract world attention away from Russia's brutal invasion of Afghanistan.

Perhaps now is the time for the shrinking Free World to mount its own propaganda counter-attack against the Communist cabal while they are vulnerable, not only in Poland, but in many other socialist and Third World countries. By going on an aggressive propaganda warpath, perhaps we can turn the Red tide and inspire more revolts against Communist dictatorship.

The sales, advertising and public relations geniuses of this country have demonstrated that they can change consumer preferences and buying habits for soap, cosmetics, travel and entertainment. Now, it's time to use these abilities to sell — on a worldwide basis — the greatest product of all — personal, political, religious and economic freedom.

War ships coming out of mothballs, refinery going in

At the same time that the Reagan administration is preparing to take a course of World War II battleships out of "mothballs," Standard Oil of Indiana ironically has announced plans to mothball its Wood River refining facilities, effective Oct. 1.

The decision to keep the refinery available for possible use seems wise. Certainly, the big Navy vessels that Uncle Sam will be reconditioning for 1980s use will be a lot cheaper than building new "battle wagons." But there is irony in reducing oil refining capacity at a time when petroleum products continue to rise in price and when there is continuing worldwide concern about the adequacy of oil supplies.

The four major Amoco refining units in this county will be affected by the shutdown.

The company took into account that the U.S. consumption of petroleum has dropped from a peak of 10 million barrels per day in 1973 to 17 million in 1980. No increases are projected during the next several years. Use of total U.S. refining capacity declined during the same time from 88 percent to 75 percent. And Amoco used 90 percent of its 1,238,000 barrels a day refining capacity in 1978, but only 73 percent during the past year. It expects refining to remain at this "less than efficient level" for the next four years.

The Wood River refinery, with a potential volume of 104,000 barrels a day, was singled out because it has limited ability to process medium and high-sulfur crude oil, instead refining the more expensive low-sulfur crude.

Also, because of its central location, there is likely to be no problem in obtaining petroleum products here from other Amoco refineries, utilizing the extensive Midwestern distribution system.

The only silver linings in the dark cloud are the "mothballing," creating hope of a future revival of activity; provision of continued employment opportunities for the 300 employees affected by the closing; and preservation of another 320 jobs through continuation of the Wood River operations involving additives, polystyrene, environmental programs, marine facilities, marketing terminals and loading facilities.

Budget cuts will damage area

To the Editor:

I can't understand how President Reagan and Congress can allow cutting out all these federal programs, that are helping the poor, handicapped and the minority, especially the Manpower-CETA Program. These cuts will hurt the poor, the elderly, the disabled, the cities very much, street department, police department, parks department, and some of our agencies such as the Urban League who employed CETA workers.

Many people are already laid off from the industrial plants and other companies. With the CETA cuts it really is hurting our people.

I think the President budget cuts are doing more harm than good. It brings more unemployment, peoples are losing their homes and many other necessary needs that it takes to live.

Cutting these programs will not balance the budget. People are already running out of unemployment checks. They can't find a job because none is hiring.

Most cities are broke or going broke. If the President and Congress would balance the budget, why don't they stop sending millions and millions over to the foreign countries and start putting that money back into these programs or any programs that are going to help the people here in America first.

If any is left then we will give the remains to the other countries. It's ok to give money to the Defense Department, but who is going to defend the American people when the crime rates go up and tensions flow through our cities, because of no jobs, no unemployment benefits.

Police departments are short of men because they got CTA cuts. All over America will be tough, unless Washington comes up with something to help our people.

We are the richest and strongest country in the world and there is no need for American people to suffer. We have been taxed and cut too many times already. Something must be done because people are not going to starve or let their families go hungry.

I talk too long even for a person to get unemployment checks. The whole system needs to speed up. Many people crying for help put Mr. Reagan in office.

Regardless Democrats or Republicans he's the President of all Americans. We should watch very carefully our elected official that represent us in this area. Remember he will be up again one day for reelection. We should pray to God that he will touch the hearts of President and Congressmen that are making these decisions. They may control the budget, but God controls the world and the world. Prayer changes things.

Expresses concern for 5th Ward

To the Editor:

I am concerned with what will be best for the people of the 5th Ward. I withdrew from this election because of my health, but two years ago I ran for alderman and lost by a small margin.

While running, I made no campaign promises except I would listen to the people. I would be available to the people, that I would be the people of the 5th Ward alderman, not some political cliques puppet.

I still feel the 5th Ward needs a new alderman, so people can be represented by someone who will be more interested in what is best for the people in the 5th Ward, not the political career of someone else.

I feel that Lloyd Bailey has let the 5th Ward suffer so he could help promote Dan Fetter. The 5th Ward needs representation, we are never going to be represented, properly in my opinion, as long as Lloyd Bailey is in the 5th Ward.

The program will be held at the Franciscan Apostolic Center, Sangamon Avenue Road, Springfield, from 7:30 p.m. on Friday until 2:30 p.m. on Sunday.

For further information, Quidd-City may contact Mrs. Blanche Schuller or Sister Madonna Fitzpatrick, Box 42, Springfield, phone 271-322-3386.

Lets give the people of the 5th Ward the representation we deserve.

We need to be free to express political opinions, without fear of retaliation. (Remember money don't make you right.)

Lets get all out and vote on Friday. Your Voting is a privilege.

I am supporting Jake Varadian and Paul Schuler because I feel they would be better for the 5th Ward's needs. Blanche Schuller or Sister Madonna Fitzpatrick, Box 42, Springfield, phone 271-322-3386.

Not all Hispanics agree

To the Editor:

On Thursday, March 5th, 1981, a letter was published in the editorial section of your paper entitled "Hispanic needs overlooked" and signed "Hispanic coalition for Dan Partney for Mayor."

We the undersigned in consulting with many of the Hispanic citizens of this community strongly rebutt this letter and this type of strategy.

We do not deny the right of a person or a group of persons to express their preference in a city election but to say or insinuate that they represent a whole community is a different matter.

The signature element presumes or infers to mean that the Hispanic community is supporting Mr. Partney for mayor when in fact only a handful of Hispanics decided on this strategy. We believe this to be totally unrepresentative of the whole Hispanic community.

However, we do believe in part with the contents of this letter in that we are taken for granted, it is believed that we are unorganized, it is believed that our leadership is unskilled, uncommitted, unsophisticated in the ways of political actions and that our votes do not count.

We believe that this city government should be aware that we have long been a part of this city. We work here, we live here, we own homes here, we rent here, we buy here, we pay our taxes here and remember we vote here. We will be counted, and fully expect to be involved in the political, social and economic life of this city.

Comments Warren Decatur

To the Editor:

I'd like to say a little about Warren Decatur as a person. I have been a neighbor of the Decatur for 21-22 years, so I believe I have a some what better insight to his personality than most. I know him to be an honest, moral and concerned man. These qualifications are a very important consideration in a person holding public office. I'm sure if there had been or if there are any wrongs committed by him, they most assuredly would have surfaced in the neighborhood.

As a resident of the 4th Ward, I believe Mr. Decatur has tried to be right and as humanly possible to do the best for us. He has stood alone at times on issues that he believes in, and I know him to be a good person for the good of Granite City.

If we could keep the beautiful feeling of concern and unity we all have when our hostages were released, then perhaps the residents of Granite City would be able to see that is a lot better place in which to live.

Now we should unite once again and show our concern by working together to elect a man that is fair and dedicated to our city.

State's general fund drops

The available balance in the State's General Funds was $259 million on February 28, 1981, a drop of $174 million from the same date one year ago, according to Roland W. Burris reported today.

Burris said it was the lowest month-end balance since January, 1979, but even so was the sixth highest February balance in the history of the General Funds.

The Comptroller's report noted that the General Funds month-end figure dropped $24 million in one month's time (between January and February, 1981) and the February figure is $131 million below the $390 million balance on June 30, 1980, when the last fiscal year ended.

Burris also noted that the Governor is shifting more cash reserves from the Special Funds into the General Funds to prevent the available balance from dropping even lower. In the first eight months of FY 1981, transfers into the General Funds were up $87 million over the same period last year, primarily due to the shift of $60 million from reserves in the Special Fund.

Comparing the first eight months of FY 1981 with the first eight months of FY 1980, total General Funds revenues were $5,167 billion, up $387 million or 7.4 percent over the first eight months of last fiscal year.

million on February 28, 1981, $174 million below the adjusted balance (revenues, expenditures, and available balances have been adjusted to exclude corporate personal property replacement tax money in both fiscal 1980 and fiscal 1981) of $433 million at the end of February 1980, $24 million less than the January 31, 1981 balance, and $131 million less than the adjusted balance of $390 million on June 30, 1980. While this is the lowest month-end balance since January 1979, it is still the sixth highest end of February balance in the history of the General Funds.

or 3.3 percent, inheritance tax up $15 million or 18.8 percent, all other state sources up $17 million or 1.2 percent. Revenues from sales tax relief has not been offset by additional sales or inflated prices. Revenues from federal sources increased by $176 million or 21.3 percent — transfers in from the Public Aid Trust Fund up $182 million or 26.3 percent (inflated by a special reimbursement of $56 million for prior period medical assistance claims and about $60 million for delayed reimbursements for fiscal 1980 medical assistance spending) while a loss of $29 million in federal revenue sharing funds more than negated a $13 million increase in other federal sources.

Total expenditures from the General Fund in eight months of fiscal 1981 were $5,298 billion, $331 million or 11.1 percent higher than total expenditures in eight months of fiscal 1980. The General Funds spending increase in eight months of fiscal 1981 is the result of a $250 million (17.1 percent) increase in public aid grants, a $163 million (12.9 percent) increase in spending for 1980 medical assistance (17.1 percent) increase in Common School Fund spending, a $129 million (9.8 percent) increase in all other grants spending (community colleges, scholarships, special elementary and secondary education), a $3 million increase in all other warrants issued, and a $12 million decrease in transfers out to other state funds.

Morris Hughes finally gets his 'big home run'

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN — Morris Hughes stood in the darkened locker room in the catacombs beneath the University of Illinois Assembly Hall. In the locker room used by the Fighting Illini basketball team, the light from the ceiling lamp reflected dimly off his black skin. He shuffled his feet and glanced at the floor. Amidst all the excitement and controversy of a state championship season that saw his team finish the year with a 30-2 record, Hughes remained calm. Like ice he was. He smiled, eyes lighting up. "It's been three years," he said. "Three years we wanted this one. We finally got it. It was worth the wait." The last three years,

Madison fans have expected a lot of Hughes. He broke into the 'Trojans' starting lineup as a sophomore and took a senior's spot on the roster. There were some small jealousies on the team, but nothing that didn't blow over. The fans expected a lot because Hughes delivered a lot. But sometimes the fans might have forgotten that the 6-3 man-child was only 16 years old. Late this season, Hughes came through. He established himself as the team leader. Saturday night, he led his team to a 58-47 victory over Dunlap in the state championship game. Friday afternoon, he scored the winning basket to lead the Trojans to a thrilling 45-43 upset of top-ranked New Lenox-Providencia. In that game, 6-9 All-America Walter

Downing blocked five of Hughes' shots under the basket. But he scored the one that really counted. "You could hardly tell his team had won a state championship looking at Hughes in that locker room. "We had the experience of being up here," he said. "But we had a letdown the first half. We already thought we had it won." Hughes' teammate

Charles Claggett said, "We were playing alright. The shots just weren't fallin' in the hoop." Madison had a tough way to go in the post-season. First it had to get out of the Columbia Regional, probably the toughest Class A regional in the state, with teams like Lovejoy, 1975 state champ Venice, Madison and East St. Louis Assumption in it. Then the Trojans had to face a Vandalia team that had beaten Edgingham Sr. this season in the Vandalia's own gym in the sectional. After that one, it was a title game matchup with undefeated (28-0) Bunker Hill. On to the Charleston Super-Sectional and a game with third-ranked Lawrenceville. After the second-ranked Trojans won that one, they played number one New Lenox and number four Cairo. They knocked them all off. There were many fans who actually thought the eventual state champions wouldn't make it out of the regional. They said Lovejoy would beat them. "There was too much talk about Lovejoy," said Claggett. "We had to win that one. We got to live down there with them guys." (Continued on Page 23)

Trojans roll to crown

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN — Larry Graham breathed a sigh of relief.

His Madison Trojans' long road ended here Saturday night. Along the way, they left in ruins the number one, three and four ranked teams in the state.

But Madison's 58-47 win over unheralded Dunlap in the Illinois Class A state championship game at the Assembly Hall was far from a classic. "Hey, it's hard to get up for three games in a row," said the Trojans' 6-6 forward Mark Zarr. "But we won it. That's the main thing."

The Trojans withstood a fired-up Dunlap squad in the second half to win their second title in five years. But they had to struggle at times. What happened? "I'll take the win," said a smiling Madison head coach Graham. "We were tired tonight. But I think we let down a little, too."

Madison came into the championship game as almost a shoe-in for the title. After all, the Trojans had dispensed with number one-ranked New Lenox-Providencia in the first round Friday and number four-ranked Cairo in the semifinals Saturday morning (see related stories). But the runaway victory was never there. In fact, for a few brief moments in the second and third quarters, it looked as if Dunlap was ready to pull off the upset of the season in Illinois Class A basketball. But Madison hung together. "I think it was an unavoidable letdown," said Madison assistant coach Dave Hodges. "If we had been able to hit some of our shots early, it might have been a different ball game. "But we stayed together, and even though we didn't play our best game, we won. I'll tell you, we deserved this. No team in the state of Illinois has had to work as hard and overcome as many things this season as this team (Madison) has. "We had to play the toughest schedule in the playoffs of anyone," Hodges said. "But we still came through."

Dunlap, which advanced to the state championship game with a victory over Liberty in the semifinals, had heard all the talk about a Madison blowout. "Our boys heard it," said Dunlap coach John Kimble. "But they actually believed they could beat Madison. Our guys were out there playing as hard as they could with nine seconds left. That about guts."

"Madison had more talent, obviously. But we out-gutted them, there's no doubt about that." Dunlap's Eagles opened the game by jumping out to an early lead. But most of the crowd assumed it wouldn't last. It would be just a matter of time before the Trojans would jump all over them. With center Mike Reinsma putting on a superb performance in the first quarter (seven-for-seven from the floor), the Eagles held on to a 20-16 lead at the end of the period. But back came Madison. Slowly but surely. The Trojans made up the deficit and went into the locker room at halftime with a 38-31 lead. Then came the third quarter. Madison didn't score in the third quarter for nearly the first four minutes. But Dunlap was unable to make its hay while the sun was shining. The Eagles only scored six points during that stretch and couldn't regain the lead.

At the 3:05 mark, Madison's Patrick Hatter hit a 20 foot jumper from the left side of the lane to give his team a 40-37 lead. But at the same time, teammate Morris Hughes picked up his fourth personal foul away from the play.

"I'm sort of surprised we came as close to them (Madison) as we did," said Kimble. "But we have a heck of a group. Whatever they've had to do to win all year, they've done. We could have gone in there tonight and taken a dive. We could have been content just to settle for second place. But our kids never gave up. Even though Madison had enough ability to blow us out."

Two minutes went by before Reinsma scored two of his 21 points to pull Dunlap back to within one point. But in the last 56 seconds of the period, the Trojans put on one of their patented scoring surges and put six straight points on the board.

"Dunlap played just as poorly in the second part of the third quarter as we did in the first part," said Hodges. "They couldn't hit their shots."

Charles Claggett led Madison in scoring with 18 points. Hughes followed that with a 16-point effort. Hatter scored 14. Besides Reinsma, Bill Seiler was the Eagles' only player in double figures, with 13.

Hatter, Hughes All-Tourney

CHAMPAIGN — Madison's champion Trojans dominated the selections to the Associated Press and United Press International All-Tournament teams here Saturday night at the Class A State Basketball Finals. All five Madison starters received either first or second team honors.

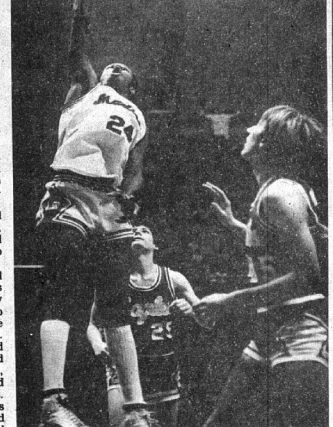

Madison standouts Morris Hughes and Patrick Hatter were named to both the AP and UPI All-Tournament first teams. Kevin Stanley was named to the AP second team, while Charles Claggett and Mark Zarr were named to the UPI second team.

Joining Hatter and Hughes on both first teams were Cairo stars Anthony Webster and Lorenzo Duncan and Providence standout Walter Downing. Others on the AP second team were Don Nelson and Jeff Owap of Liberty, Cairo's Orlando Hill and Dunlap's Linn Arbogast. Hill, Seisen and Dunlap's Bill Seiler joined Zarr and Claggett on the UPI second team.

It marked the first time in Class A State Tournament history that all five starters from a team were named to either first or second team honors.

Webster and Duncan wowed the crowd, when it wasn't cheering Madison on. It seemed the unwatched Assembly Hall fans were split between Cairo's Pilots and the Trojans.

For the Cairo players, their third place game victory was the fulfillment of a dream. Take Steve Williams, for instance. The unheralded junior reserve made his first State Final appearance with only 30

At halftime of the championship game, Cairo's players came out to pick up their third place trophy — wearing tuxedos. They received a standing ovation from the crowd of over 10,000. Another state trophy for Southern Illinois.

Pilots take third

CHAMPAIGN — The Cairo Pilots rebounded from a semifinal loss to Madison to capture third place in the Class A State Basketball Tournament Saturday night at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall.

Cairo, which ended the season with a 30-5 record, thumped out-manned Liberty 81-54 with some nifty shooting which included a 70-foot bomb by Steve Williams at the buzzer.

"It's hard to come back after losing in the afternoon," said Cairo coach Bill Chumler. "It's been a while since we've had to take a lickin' like we did this afternoon (to Madison). But the kids started out right, got into their flow and made it happen."

All-Tournament selection Anthony Webster scored 21 points and Orlando Hill, a second-team selection, pumped in 26. Webster, who made a verbal commitment to play at Bradley University next season, pulled down a game-high 11 rebounds, despite sitting out much of the fourth quarter when the Pilots' substitutes were having some fun.

Liberty, which lost the second semifinal game of the day to Dunlap by one point, was never in the game — mentally or physically. "The kids were awful tired," said Liberty coach Paul Kreke. "We got outmanned for the first time this season. We haven't played a team with this much jumping ability all year."

Illinois slips by Wyoming

LOS ANGELES — The University of Illinois Fighting Illini scored a thrilling 67-65 victory over upset-minded Wyoming at Pauley Pavilion here Saturday to advance in the NCAA post-season tournament.

Illinois' Mark Smith earned a pair of one-and-one free throws with three seconds remaining on the clock to give his team the victory.

Most of the way before Wyoming took command late in the game. A 15-foot jumper by Illini guard Perry Range with 15 left tied the score at 65-65. Seconds later, Wyoming's Kenneth Ollie was called for an offensive foul against Smith.

Mendoza falls in Golden Gloves final

By TOM SCHOCKER

ST. LOUIS — About 300 Granite Cityans flocked to Keil Auditorium Saturday to cheer on the hometown favorite, Danny Mendoza, in the finals of the "Budweiser" Golden Gloves St. Louis Boxing Tournament. Although Mendoza lost a close decision, the fans were not sent home disappointed.

It was a big factor in the judges decision, because no matter how hard Mendoza connected on Trendley or how many punches he landed, Trendley wouldn't crack. "He had a head like a brick," said Mendoza. "While Mendoza was trying everything to find that one good opening to tag Trendley, the big boxer, ranked sixth among amateur boxers in the nation, went the opening bell. "I wasn't about his methetical business. Mendoza's efforts, seemingly in vain, took its toll as the bout progressed into the third and final round."

"I was getting a little dazed from his punches in the third round," said Mendoza. "He was throwing text book punches." Mendoza's weariness cost him as Trendley caught him with a right cross that sent him to the canvas. It was only for a brief moment, but it was enough that warranted a standing eight count by the referee to Mendoza.

"I wasn't worried about the eight count," said Mendoza. "It only meant that he landed a solid punch." It caused an immediate charge from both fighter, though, who went at each other with vengeance. When the smoke had cleared, the crowd was

Hughes' layup shoots down giants

Madison's stunning 45-43 victory over top-ranked New Lenox-Providence here Friday in the quarterfinals of the State Class A Basketball Tournament may not have meant the state championship, but you'd have a hard time convincing the Trojans about that.

Madison used a slick Kerwin Stanley-to-Morris Hughes pass for a layup with seven seconds remaining in the game for the victory. The loss knocked Providence and its 6-8 All-American center Walter Downing out of the tournament. The second-ranked Trojans advanced to the semifinals Saturday morning against third-ranked Cairo (see related story).

"It was a great pass, wasn't it," asked Madison coach Larry Graham of reporters. "It's hard to pressure him (Stanley)."

"But I'm not taking credit for it. You've got to give Hughes credit. He's a hell of a 6-2 ball player."

Madison and Providence. The dream game. It had been forecast since the beginning of the season.

The fans definitely got their money's worth. "It was a great game," said a depressed Providence coach Frank Palmasani. "Both teams looked tight early, but we were able to set the tempo. But Madison was able to adjust and play our style of game."

Stanley's pass to Hughes for the game-winning basket should never have been allowed to happen, pleaded Palmasani. "They (the refs) gave Madison the ball before we had a chance to set our defense," he said. "We never had a chance to get ready."

But Graham saw it differently. "We were expecting them to press us," he said. "If they did, we were supposed to get the ball down the court as fast as we could."

"He was supposed to look for Hatter, who'd either take the shot or dump off to Hughes. But Kerwin saw Morris standing there and gave him a nice pass."

The game, admittedly, wasn't the prettiest game played by either team this season. But it was good enough to be one of the classics in the 10 years of Class A competition at Champaign. Downing led all scorers with 27 points, had six blocked shots and grabbed six rebounds. But early in the game, he was taking shots from 15 to 17 feet. That's not exactly where Palmasani likes to see his superstar play.

"We'd have given him that 15 to 17 foot area," said Graham. "But inside, he was something."

Downing was instrumental in Madison's comeback. With 2:18 remaining and Providence ahead 41-39, Downing was called for goaltending on a shot by Hughes. That's when he was called for his fourth personal foul, for pushing off trying to get loose for a pass.

With 38 seconds remaining, Downing missed a shot from the right baseline that went in, spun back out and rolled off the rim.

Madison took a 43-41 lead with 25 seconds left when Charles Claggett made good on a one-and-one free throw situation. That set up a layup by Downing with 15 seconds remaining that tied the score. Madison called timeout, setting the stage for the Stanley-to-Hughes game-ending heroics.

Downing fouled out on Hughes' layup, when he pushed Hughes after the shot. Hughes missed the front end of the one-and-one, but there wasn't enough time for Providence to get off a good shot. How much difference did it make to New Lenox, not having Downing on the floor when going for that tying basket with seven seconds left? "Not much, I don't think," muttered Palmasani. "He (Downing) would probably have had to have grabbed the rebound (off the missed free throw) and wouldn't have been involved in the play anyway."

Graham said, "We thought he (Downing) was showing most of the game. We finally got that shooting call (with 2:10 left). I think that was the turning point of the ball game."

Madison's All-Stater, Patrick Hatter, did not look good the first half. Aside from a tip-in of a missed shot, he wouldn't have scored in that period. Hatter was trying to do too much," said Graham. "He was out of control."

But his teammates were there to pick it up.

Especially Mark Zarr. The unheralded 6-6 junior continued to impress. He had a blocked shot in the first half and in the second half, he put a baseline move on Downing for a reverse layup that he can tell his grandchildren about. "Hey, Zarr can play," said Graham. "He played well against Lawrenceville (Charleston super-Sectional) and he did a heck of a job today." A unifying force, Zarr finished the game with nine points.

Was the victory over the Celtics his team's biggest ever? "Well, our state championship win in 1977 ranks right up there," laughed Graham. "But it's a big win. We thought they were beatable coming in. We just had to adjust to their style of play."

"They (Madison) adjusted well," said Palmasani. "But we didn't play well early. We had our chances to win it, but just didn't get it done." We just got some bad breaks at the end of the game."

Graham said he didn't mind letting Providence set the tempo, "as long as we were ahead," he said.

"They're a hell of a team," said Graham. "Every time they wanted two points, they went to Downing. And it seemed like everytime he got the ball, he scored, except when he scored."

"A game like this can go either way," said Graham. "But things turned out alright for us today."

"Especially when it's a two or four point ball game."

"Thanks to Stanley and Hughes."

Cairo no match for Trojans

Cairo coach Bill Chumler spoke softly. His deep southern drawl was barely audible. "I wish we had been able to stay closer to them," he said after his team's 70-51 loss to Madison the Class A State Basketball Semifinals at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall.

"We just had way too many turnovers. Way too many turnovers," he muttered. "We got caught up in an emotional game and before we knew it, we were out of it."

That emotional game was probably mostly Cairo's doing. The Pilots, who went into the game ranked fourth in the state, jumped out to an early lead and appeared ready to drive the nail into second-ranked Madison's coffin in the first period. Cairo jumped out to a 16-10 lead. But that's when things started swinging Madison's way.

Madison appeared ripe for an upset. After all, the Trojans had upset number one-ranked New Lenox-Providence in the quarterfinals Friday (see related story). There had to be a letdown, right? And Cairo and Madison aren't exactly hardwood strangers — or the best of friends. They've played some one-point thrillers down through the years, though the Pilots weren't on Madison's schedule this season.

"Sure, I was concerned about a letdown on our part," said Madison coach Larry Graham. "I think it looked like we got into the flow of the game."

"Providence plays a more deliberate style, while Cairo likes to get up and down the floor."

Madison, as has been the case all season, adjusted well. But it did take the Trojans a while. After trailing 16-10, they held the Pilots scoreless over a six minute stretch while scoring 15 points themselves. Carvell Claggett's basket at the 6:52 mark of the second quarter made it 25-16.

"That's all it takes against a team like Madison," said Chumler. "You can't give them any sort of an opening. But I was certainly surprised with the margin."

On no less than three occasions, Cairo players missed slam-dunk attempts in the first half that could have changed the momentum and brought their team closer. Did Chumler say anything to his players? "No, not really," he said. "I talked to them as a team — told them to settle down. But we don't Bobby Knight style it on our team. We don't push the kids around or berate them."

Hodges learns lesson from DePaul's loss

CHAMPAIGN — Madison assistant basketball coach Dave Hodges left no doubt about his thoughts concerning the difference between Southern Illinois and Illinois when it comes to prep basketball.

"A lot of you people from up north don't understand what we (Madison) had to go through to get here," he said to reporters after Madison had defeated Dunlap to win the state Class A championship Saturday night. "I know it's hard for you to believe, but before we got up here, a lot of our players had never heard of (New Lenox All-American) Walter Downing."

"Before we got up here, I thought Dunlap was a brand of tires," he said. "Down in our area, it's tough. Some of the best small school basketball in the state is in Southern Illinois."

To attest to Hodges' statement, consider this: Of the ten state Class A champions crowned, no fewer than eight are from what the Chicago papers love to refer to as "downstate." That includes Madison and Lawrenceville twice, and Venice, Mount Pulaski, Nashville and Ridgeway once.

"We earned this championship," said Hodges. "We had to beat the toughest teams in the state to win it."

the Assembly Hall Saturday afternoon, Hodges was with the Madison team back at their hotel. "We watched all the (NCAA) upsets on television this afternoon."

"I couldn't believe it when (top-ranked) DePaul was beaten. They got the lead, but missed the free throws. St. Joseph's got the rebound, dribbled the length of the floor and there were two wide-open guys under the basket. They put it in and won the game."

"I made sure our guys saw that and understood that they had to be prepared to play ball tonight. Maybe they were ready, maybe they weren't."

"But we won it."

Trojan girls rolling

EAST ST. LOUIS — If people don't know it, there is no stronger, quicker, more balanced and a much better team than last year.

"All I know about Carlisle is that they went to the state tournament last year and they have all their people back. We have to beat them to go any further anyway. So, we might as well get them out of the way now. We were not that impressive last year in the sectionals. That's probably why we got seeded against them."

According to Stearns, Madison didn't really look that good against Wesclin, either. However the Trojans managed to coast, so it wasn't one of our more impressive games," said Stearns. "But, we'll take it. Our offense and the press was the key."

The Trojan defense allowed them to jump out to a quick 8-2 first quarter lead and an eight point margin at the half. "I always felt good about a quick lead," said Stearns. "If we can get ahead, we'll do all right."

Wesclin was about to let Madison off scout-free, though. Norbeck paced the Warriors attack with 18 points and got them back to within five after three quarter. "It was not an easy game," said Stearns. "We had to struggle and it was a good game for us."

But, Wesclin couldn't handle the one-two punch of Ruth Jacks and Nancy Mikolaszuk, who threw in 17 points a piece. "Nancy really didn't have a real good game," said Stearns. "So, for the last two games, the team has relied on Ruthie."

Laura Brown added to the double figure group with 12 as the Madison had just five players in the scoring column. "I'm afraid this may be a problem," said Stearns. "We don't have much depth and if we get into foul trouble, we could be hurting. But, the starter can go the whole game and I hope they can keep it up. We were in a putting it all together."

MADISON: Ruth Jacks 17, Nancy Mikolaszuk 17, Laura Brown 12, Parker 1, Lovette 4. FG 22, FT 10, PF 10.

Dunlap edges Liberty

CHAMPAIGN — The Dunlap Eagles won a heart-stopper here Saturday afternoon in the semifinals of the Illinois State Class A Basketball Tournament. They edged the Liberty Eagles 46-45 in a come-from-behind thriller.

Dunlap trailed Liberty 43-35 with only 4:30 remaining in the game, but put on a dramatic comeback. They got back within one point twice, before Bill Selzer's two free throws with 14 seconds remaining gave them the lead for good.

Liberty held a 20-18 halftime advantage and lead 37-31 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The victory sent Dunlap into Saturday night's state championship game against Madison, while Liberty played Cairo for third place.

South wins regional GRANITE CITY — Granite City South girls head basketball coach Gary Morgan has been slapped with only two technical fouls all year. On both occasions, his Warriors have responded with an outstanding performance. The latter of those calls came in the finals of the South Class AA Sectional Tournament here Thursday.

It was all South needed as it reversed a 15 point first half deficit against the Wood River Oilers. The Warriors came back with a impressive show, outscoring the Oilers 36-10 in the second half, to take a 58-45 victory and the sectional championship.

In his rookie season, Morgan now has the task of having his Warriors (19-1) upset the number one ranked Class AA team and the defending state champions, East St. Louis Lincoln, in their opening game of the Jacksonville Sectional Tuesday. Since their 30-0 season a year ago, the Tigers have posted a 26-0 mark in 1981. A 7:30 p.m. tip-off time is scheduled.

"They (South) know what they have to do against Lincoln," said Morgan. "I think we can win. But, if it's our best game against their best game, they'll probably win. We would have to play our best and they would have to play their less than best for us to win."

Among those wrestling for the Illinois All Stars will be Kevin Doyle of Litchfield at 98 pounds, Tim Partelow of Belleville West at 105, Jerry Miller of Granite City North at 112, Greg Garland of Granite City South at 119, Randy Lupardus of Granite City South at 126, Darren Ross of West at 132, Todd Nelbauer of Triad at 138, Mark Schmitt of Alholf at 145, state runner-up Dean Perkins of Granite City South at 155, Don Miller of O'Fallon at 167, Jim Frangoulis of Granite City South at 175, Dave Webbels of West at 185 and state champion Keith Cruise of Cahokia at heavyweight.

you know." Until the game with New Lenox, the Lobejoy eight-point victory was the Trojans' closest game of the season.

Both Hughes and Claggett credit Madison head coach Larry Graham and assistant coach Dave Hodges with the team's success. "Man, you can't forget the coaches we got," said Claggett.

"Yeah," chimed in Hughes. "They're the best in the state of Illinois."

Claggett then gave Hughes his due. "We listened to Hughes," he said. "He was the leader. He started his sophomore year and played here two years."

It was a championship Hughes wanted badly. After taking off the last time, he got ready to board the team bus.

"Everybody kept telling us that three strikes and we'd be out," he said.

"Then Claggett joined in. 'But we finally got the home run,'" they laughed. "We finally got the home run."

Mendoza

brought to its feet with the loudest ovation of the night. "I was throwing extra hard punches in that last round," said Mendoza. "But, I think I was forced into playing his fight. He was taking the fight to me and was a little more aggressive."

As Mendoza left the ring, you wouldn't thought he was just lost with all the people congratulating him. "Hell, second place is not bad," said Mendoza's manager Mercie Mendoza. "He (Danny) fought a hell of a fight. I'm disappointed with the decision, because I think Danny landed to more effective punches, but I'm not disappointed with the fight."

People don't realize how hard a kid 19 or 20 years old has to work to get this far. Although his train for the national championships had to make a sudden stop, Mendoza feels ready for his next challenge. "The AAs are coming up in April," said Mendoza. "This time I'll be more in shape and I'll another shot at Trendley. The results will be different then."

UNDERCOATING—RALPH'S TEXACO 22ND & MADISON AVE.

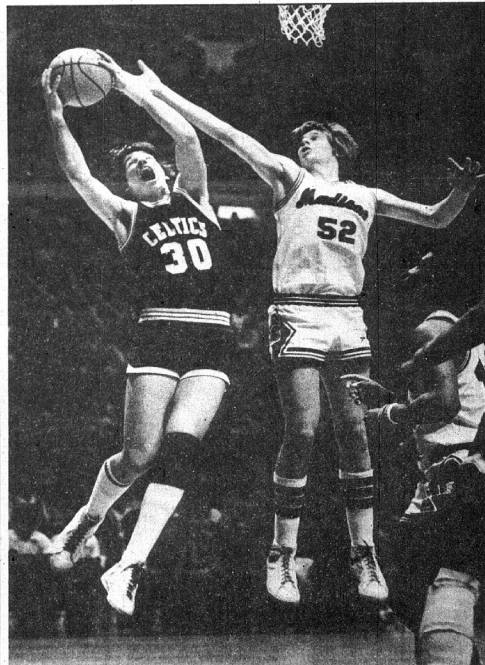

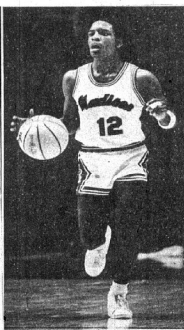

CHAMPAIGN — It was a long road to travel. But the Madison High basketball Trojans travelled it well. Along the way, there were a few pitfalls.

But there were only two losses. There were 30 victories. The last victory came here Saturday night over unheralded Dunlap High School. It was for the state Class A championship. It wasn't the prettiest game the Trojans ever played. But they won it, 58-47. Dunlap's best wasn't good enough to overcome a so-so Madison performance. That says a lot.

To say Madison proved it is the best small school (enrollment 750 and under) basketball team in the state wouldn't be a lie. The Trojans beat the number one, three and four ranked teams in the state tournament, beginning with Lawrenceville in the Charleston Super-Sectional, and continuing with New Lenox-Providence and Cairo in the quarterfinals and semifinals.

In photos, clockwise from above: Madison cheerleaders, players and fans whoop it up for the cameras after the championship game; Trojan Kerwin Stanley passes off beyond a New Lenox defender; Madison's 6-6 junior center Mark Zarr (in white) goes for a rebound with New Lenox's Mike Tshida; Kerwin Stanley, who passed to Morris Hughes for the winning basket against New Lenox, brings the ball down court; Madison coach Larry Graham is interviewed after the title game win.

What's this?

GRANITE CITY — When "Scholastic Coach" magazine named its first ever All-America Prep Soccer Team recently, two Granite City South players were on the list.

The only problem is that one of the players graduated from South a YEAR ago and didn't even play prep soccer this past season. He played in college.

Granite City South star David Fernandez was named to the first team All-America as a midfielder. That's fine, he played at South this year. But when the name Craig Kessler appeared on the Honorable Mention list as a back, well, that's not so fine. You see, Kessler wasn't on the South team this season — he was a regular player for the University of Evansville.

"I don't really know how it happened," laughed South coach Gene Baker. "I do know that the magazine had sort of ignored soccer up until now. I think they just picked their own team from a list they had."

Coast To Coast

I think I'm a witch

By DICK MAURICE

LAS VEGAS — "I have a little more ESP than most people have. I've been to see psychics and one said to me, 'Oooh, there's too much coming from you. Relax.'"

Among MARILU HENNER's psychic experiences are a motorcycle accident in which a boyfriend was rushed to a hospital and a plane flight which she kept her sister from taking.

"My sister was scheduled for a flight to Paris. She's very neurotic about going on planes and I suddenly got this feeling. I warned her not to go on the plane she was scheduled for."

"She didn't go on that flight, and they had so much trouble that they had to turn back. Nothing drastic happened, but knowing how my sister would react to something like that would have been a drastic experience for her."

The episode with a boyfriend took place while she was out at the beach and he was in town working.

"I felt something just wasn't right, so I called him at the appointment he was scheduled for and was told he wouldn't be in. 'Try calling the emergency room at Sinai Hospital.' I reached him there and found out he had had a terrible motorcycle accident. Of course, he was shocked that I located him there."

In further elaborating on her psychic ability, Marilu revealed: "I can also get a cab whenever I need one. It's positive thinking more than anything else."

"The greatest testimony to that was on New Year's Eve. Two cabs with off duty signs on pulled up and said, 'Do you need a cab?' while ten other couples were out trying to flag one down."

FRANK SINATRA
...won't accept post of envoy to the Vatican

What does she think of professional psychics?

"I think they pick up what's already in your mind. I've never been told something I hadn't already thought about."

"For instance, just before I tested for 'Blood: Brothers,' a psychic told me I would get the part. I hadn't mentioned the screen test to the psychic, but it was on my mind."

A palmist she visited two years back said, "I want an imprint of those hands. You're going to be famous one day."

As a star on one of TV's top shows, Marilu's reading has proved right. And according to some, this is only the beginning.

FRANK SINATRA has no intention of accepting the post of special envoy to the Vatican, and RONALD REAGAN has no intention of offering it to him. But Sinatra will continue to be America's No. 1 envoy to the Chrysler Corp.

DAVID BRENNER has been slugged with a $1,010,000 suit over an alleged assault against a former love rival.

The comedian is said in court papers to have attacked restaurateur Jacques de la Fontaine at a chic disco. Brenner allegedly dumped ice water on his head, and punched him in the face.

JIM STAFFORD's recent successful appearance at the Sahara has caused the producers of ABC's "Those Amazing Animals" to allow co-host Jim to do a little more singing on the show. Stafford now gets a chance to sing — to the animals on the program.

Singer ENGLEBERT HUMPERDINCK has shed 30 pounds but wants to drop at least five more so he'll be in shape for his dramatic acting debut early next year.

Englebert says he won't sing in this one and will only say that the project is an "untitled mystery thriller."

SHIRLEY MACLAINE has been offered the title role in 20th Century Fox's "The President's Woman," which will be based on the forthcoming autobiography by MIDGE COSTANZA, who worked for JIMMY CARTER up until her controversial exit from the White House last year.

Comic DAVID LETTERMAN, bounced from his own NBC daytime show by rotten ratings, was said to be headed for a regular's spot on "Saturday Night Live." Now the talk is he may be headed for one of the other networks.

GARY WELLES claims that he will jump the fountains at Caesars Palace in January or February. Although he has been announcing this, one executive at Caesars Palace, who wished to remain anonymous laughed. "If he does, it will be over HARRY WALDE."

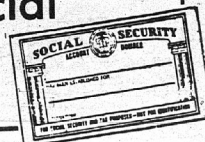

Mammoth Cave nominated to World Heritage List

Mammoth Cave National Park in Kentucky has been nominated by the United States to the World Heritage List, which includes properties with natural and cultural values that have international significance.

Fifty-three nations are in the program, which the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization administers.

Mammoth Cave, with 225 miles of surveyed passages, has the world's most extensive network of cave passages known.

Your Social Security

Is the Trust Fund collapsing?

Q. I keep reading recurring stories in our local press regarding the impending collapse of the Social Security Trust Funds. Is anything being done about this?

— A.R.
A. The problem revolved around one of the Trust Funds — the Old Age and Survivors Trust Fund — which faced a depletion of revenues by the end of 1981.

Congress was advised of the problem in June 1980 and it was recognized that swift action was necessary.

On Oct. 9, 1980, the president signed legislation passed by Congress that provided a two-year reallocation of tax rates between Old Age and Survivors Trust Fund and the Disability Insurance Trust Fund. This will guarantee payment of benefits into 1982 and give Congress an opportunity for a more thorough study of the problem this year.

Q. I have worked for a school district for 27 years. But I never paid into Social Security. Now I am 64 years old and am getting a monthly retirement check. My question is, am I entitled to draw one-half of my wife's Social Security? Also, when I get to be 65 years old how can I qualify for Medicare?

— W.G.
A. You would not be eligible to receive benefits from your wife's Social Security account unless you were dependent on her for more than half of your support.

At age 65 if you are not eligible for a Social Security benefit you may purchase Hospital and Medical Insurance under Medicare. The present premiums are $78 per month for hospital coverage and $9.60 per month for medical coverage.

You may purchase the medical insurance only but if you want hospital coverage you are required to enroll and pay for the medical coverage also.

Q. Our friend is about 85 and has lived in the United States over 50 years. He is not a citizen but has been receiving Social Security for about 20 years.

He has never been issued a Medicare card. Could he now apply for one? — Anonymous

A. Your friend is eligible for Hospital Insurance (Part A of Medicare) since he is receiving a monthly Social Security check. He should have received a Medicare card long ago but since he doesn't have one the local Social Security office will help him get one.

If he has not previously signed up for Medical Insurance (Part B of Medicare) he can do so between Jan. 1, 1981 and March 31, 1981, and have his medical coverage begin July 1, 1981.

Q. I'm widowed twice. At age 60 could I collect from both husbands, in other words could I collect two checks?

What percentage of my late husband's Social Security could I receive? — J.A.
A. You can collect on only one deceased husband's account — the one that pays the higher benefit.

At age 60 a widow is entitled to 71.5 percent of her deceased husband's age 65 benefit rate.

World Of Music

The King lives on, in memory

By ROBIN WELLES
 HOLLYWOOD — Forget Elvis? Impossible.

The King died on Aug. 16, 1977, at the age of 42. That's more than three years ago and you might think memories would begin to fade — but they haven't.

Each year has brought out albums that keep the image of Presley fresh in the minds of his fans.

The latest is "Elvis — The Legend of a King." It is being distributed by Associated Broadcasters and was written and produced by Don Vogel.

This is the first LP since Presley's death that stresses entirely a written commentary on the singer. There are interviews with many people who knew Elvis: D.J. Fontana, a friend since the Sun years, Jake Hess, a gospel singer idolized by young Elvis, Charlie Hodge, long-time companion, Dee Presley, his stepmother since 1960.

What emerges is a warm portrait of the man whose death shocked millions. The retrospective originally was aired as a broadcast special on more than 100 RKO Network radio stations over the weekend of Aug. 16.

ANDY GIBBS — Greatest Hits (RSO) — Andy was only 9 years old when his brothers were achieving stardom as the Bee Gees. But it wasn't long before he organized a band in his native Australia and then left to find riches in the United States. The LP selections include "I Just Want To Be Your Everything," "Shadow Dancing," "An Everlasting Love," "Time Is Time" and "After Dark." Andy also duets with Pat Arnold on "Will You Love Me Tomorrow."

ABBA — Super Trouper (Atlantic) — Europe's super group finally is making it big in the United States, and deservedly so. The quartet has a clean, crisp sound and precise harmonies that reflect hours and hours of practice. Abba also has that rare capability of achieving instant recognition with a new song. Abba's appeal cuts across all kinds of music fans.

URBAN COWBOY II — Movie Soundtrack (Epic) — Are there any movies put out anymore without accompanying album soundtracks? It appears unlikely. This is an excellent country-rock album from the Travolta movie. Artists include J.D. Souther, Mickey Gilley, Johnny Lee and the Charlie Daniels Band. Especially good is Daniels' "Orange Blossom Special."

DOLLY — 9 to 5 and Odd

Jobs (RCA) — Another enjoyable outing with the country singer of renowned proportions. The arrangements are classy and the songs are typical Parton like "Hush-A-Bye Hard Times" and "Poor Folks Town." No one claims that Dolly is turning out enduring art, but she is right up there at the top as an entertainer.

DR. HOOK — Rising (Casablanca) — Hook has been with us for a decade, spreading good cheer with captivating music that ranges from country to rock. Look for no melancholy here. The Aussies are carriers of optimism, and anything that helps to dispel the gloom and doom these days is very welcome, indeed.

GERRY MULLIGAN — Walk On The Water (DRG) — A very mellow LP from the man with the golden saxophone. Mulligan takes his orchestra through splendid arrangements of "Walk On The Water," "Song For Strayhorn" and "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You." In addition to the Mulligan solos, Barry Ries gets in some nice licks on trumpet.
